CHANGES & STUFF

Tom Mitchell
Anime Stuff's Publisher

Hates ASCII text almost as much as he hates Robotech...

Welcome to the 5th edition of the Anime Stuff Index by Albert Wong. Albert and I hope you find it a handy guide to the first 20 issues of Anime Stuff. As you can see, this edition of the Index is in a much different format! Well, I decided to use this version as a test and preview for Anime Stuff's new format. Yes, I'm sick of plain ASCII text, so Anime Stuff is moving to Common Ground format for the Mac and Windows. In the future we also might offer Adobe Acrobat format as well.

This change will allow us to mix fonts and graphics and provide a much more magazine-like presentation. We'll be able to control the presentation of the newsletter better for you readers, particularly for those of you who like to print it out for friends or anime groups. This will insure that graphics and text are not censored when this file gets to you, no matter what source you get it from. It will also allow us to actually show you pictures of the anime and manga goods that we review.

If you have any comments about this new format, please let us know! We are always willing to listen and adapt ideas from our readers in order to improve our newsletter, and have more fun with its contents.

About the Anime Stuff Index itself; The Index is a very simple alphabetical listing of all of the articles that have appeared in Anime Stuff, the Japanese animation newsletter. It shows you the title, author, and issue that the article appeared in. There's a lot of material that we've covered over the years, so the Anime Stuff Index will provide you handy roadmap on where to look up the articles and reviews.

Please enjoy Albert's Anime Stuff Index! And we hope to see you next in Anime Stuff 21!

ANIME STUFF Prototype Cover Graphic from 1988

The original idea sketch for cover graphics to be included with issues of Anime Stuff.. This was created on my old Atari 520 ST computer at 320 x 200 pixels, and 16 colors. I drew this with Tom Hudson's classic paint program D.E.G.A.S. Elite. I was trying to get a feel for how I was going to lay it out, and this was the final design. Since this was a cover that was not going to be used, I created a fictional character for it in a fictional anime. A Southern Cross movie. Wishful thinking on my part.

You'll notice that the Anime Stuff logo has changed a bit since then. Originally it was going to be totally English/Japanese with "Anime Shina" as the Japanese title. "Shina" being the closest word to "stuff" in Japanese that I knew. My friend Masaki Takai advised me against it. Too many other connotations I guess, so the final logo has "Stuff" written in katakana.

Anyway, I couldn't remember if I ever shared this graphic with Anime Stuff's readers. So, here it is!
